

Dear Mr. Blosser,

Thank you for letting us touch the stuff we loved that part. We love that you spent your own free time with us. We enjoyed that you shared artifacts with us. One of the things I like was all of the stories you shared with us. Some people don't want to come in and talk to us. We love that you came in... So please come back we beg you.

Sincerely,
Charlotte HU

Dear Mr. Blosser,

Thank you for sharing the artifacts. One of the things I liked is that you let us touch the things you showed us because some programs don't allow that. I loved the stories you told us it helped us understand how people react to older things. I wonder how other people would react? I appreciate that you took time out of your day and schedule to visit us and teach us about the things Native Americans used and how they used them. I liked how when people were "wealthy" they gave stuff away and did not keep stuff for themselves like today. I liked touching the hides and the fox's fur was the softest and the racoon and skunk hat looked very cool. The dating flute was one of my favorites. I bet if I were a boy then I would not have courage to talk to their dad. Thank You for the experience.

-Sincerely
Eastleigh J

Dear Mr. Blosser,

Thank you for teaching us about cool Native American/Pre Historic stuff. Thank you for taking time out of your life to teach us cool things.

My favorite part of it was when you played the whistle and, when we got to touch the things that you taught us about. I wish you could come back and teach us some more! Mr. Blosser you were really nice, funny, and cool we really appreciate you for teaching us about the Native American life.

Sincerely,
Lukas
